Lab 9 documentation

Initial Prompt:

Create a one-page website for a Product / Business Page.

Include sections: Product description, features, pricing, call-to-action

Use a clean modern design with a purple and white color scheme.

Make it responsive and visually appealing.

Enhanced Prompt (ChatGpt):

Create a modern, minimalist, and visually aesthetic one-page website for a café brand called Bean There Café.

The website should target young adults aged 16–25 (students to young professionals) and focus on promoting the café and encouraging visits or purchases.

Use a purple and white color scheme with soft accents, clean typography, and a cozy yet trendy vibe. The design should feel Instagram-worthy, simple, and calming.

Design & Experience:

Apply a minimalist layout with lots of white space

Use smooth scroll animations, fade-ins, and hover effects

Include high-quality visuals or placeholders for coffee, desserts, and café ambiance

Ensure the site is fully responsive (mobile-first design)

Sections to Include:

- Hero Section

- Catchy headline (e.g., “Brewed for Your Vibe”)

- Short tagline

- Call-to-action button (e.g., “Visit Us” or “Order Now”)

- About / Product Description

- Brief introduction to Bean There Café

- Emphasize experience (cozy space, good for studying, hanging out, etc.)

- Featured Menu / Features Section

- Highlight 4–6 items (coffee, pastries, signature drinks)
- Include icons or small images
- Pricing Section
- Show sample prices or categories (e.g., coffee, pastries, combos)
- Call-to-Action Section
- Encourage users to visit the café or place an order
- Include a strong, visually distinct button
- Footer
- Social media links (Instagram, Facebook)
- Contact info
- Location placeholder

Additional Features:

Add subtle micro-interactions (button hover, card animations)

Include a modern font pairing (e.g., sans-serif + elegant accent font)

Maintain consistent spacing, alignment, and color usage throughout

The final design should feel clean, trendy, and inviting, appealing to a younger audience who enjoy café culture, studying, and socializing.

Refinement Prompts (at least 2 more)

1st Refinement Prompt:

Replace the color scheme with brown and gray and add a little green change the images of the menu to a real drinks instead of purple themed.

Change the name from "Bean There. " to "Bean There Café"

Add a logo to the left most part of the navigation bar.

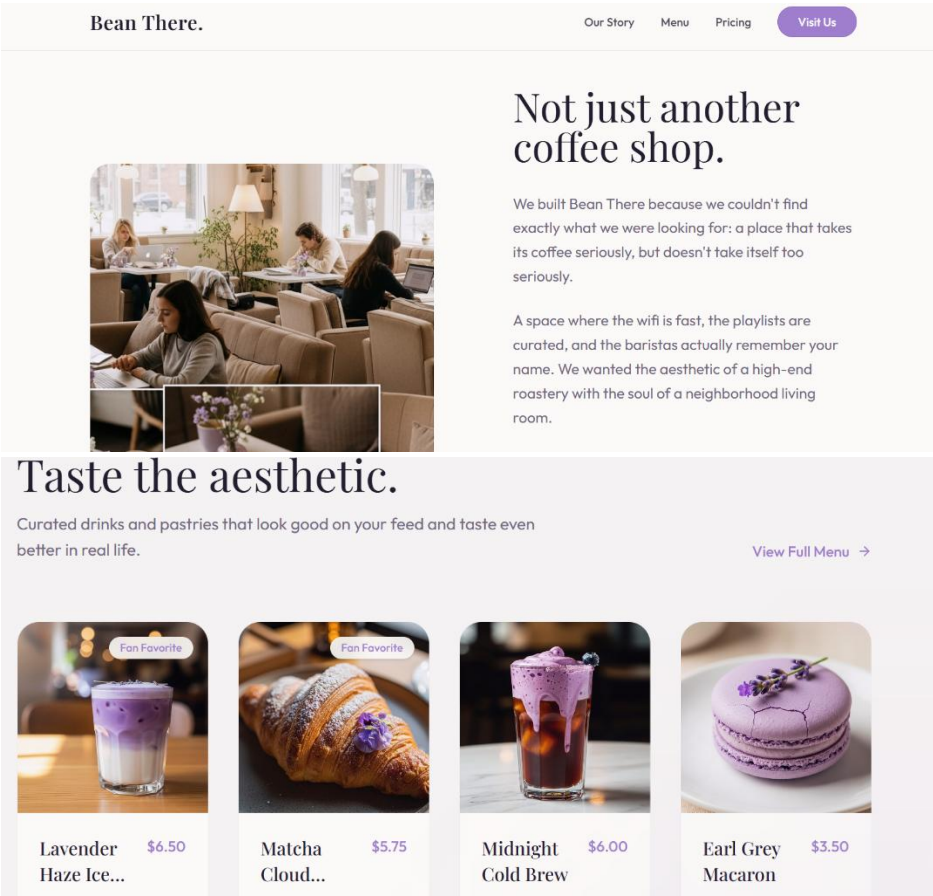

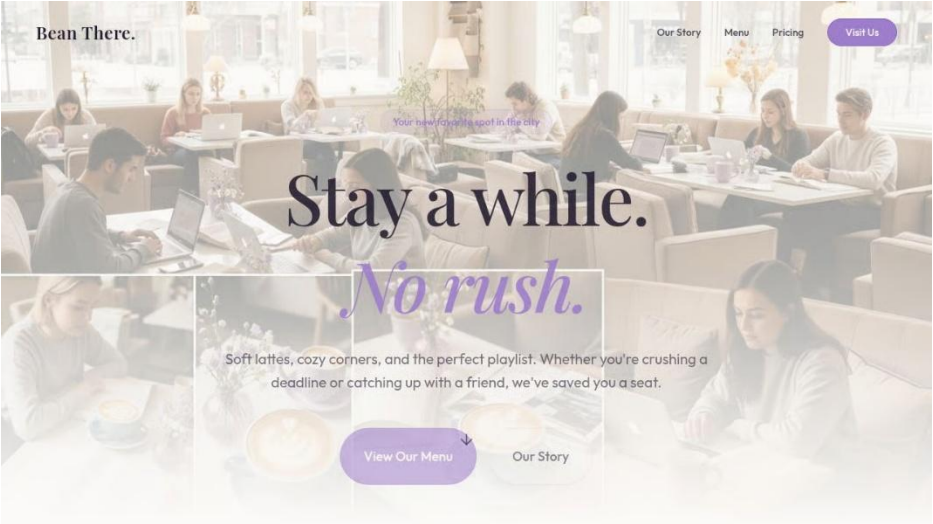

Put the "taste the aesthetic" and the pricing sections below the hero section. And put the "not just another coffee shop " before the "come study with us " section

2nd Refinement Prompt

In the menu section, replace the matcha cloud croissant with something else and adjust the font size each item that the entire name is visible regardless of screen resolution

Not just another coffee shop.

We built Bean There because we couldn't find exactly what we were looking for: a place that takes its coffee seriously, but doesn't take itself too seriously.

A space where the wifi is fast, the playlists are curated, and the baristas actually remember your name. We wanted the aesthetic of a high-end roastery with the soul of a neighborhood living room.

Final Reflection

The Initial output of the initial prompt was already good enough with minor details that needed to be fixed. I think this is because of the engineered prompt I inputted. I decided to enhance my initial prompt because the free version of replit may have limited use, so I made sure that every prompt counts and that the first prompt would be as detailed as possible to have a good initial output. As far as the entire process, no part of the website needed manual fixing, everything was fixed using prompts and it delivered what I asked. I learned that in prompting, you have to be as detailed as possible, because AI has limited interpretive capabilities unlike when a real person has when given instructions. Having a general prompt gives a general result which would most likely be not what you want to generate. When you give a detailed prompt, the AI follows the instructions, every detail that you inputted, this makes the result of your prompt closer to your expectations.
