Reflection

I much preferred the output of Gemini because it was able to produce details even in little details I inputted. I really have nothing much to put in my resume, but Gemini was somehow able to sum up my internship experience and adding it to the resume to further strengthen it. Although I prefer Gemini, Chat GPT has its pros too. As it followed my instructions exactly, although no additional details. This adding of details by Gemini, although showed good in my result, poses a risk of fabricating stories due to the lack of prompt, making the AI just add things in its own accord. This is where Chat GPT was better than Gemini. However all in all, Gemini was my preference. Because the output of Gemini was good enough, I decided to keep the text and add minimalist design to make my resume appealing. I learned that in prompting, one should put as much details as possible to make the result closer to or exactly how one expects it to be.
